"PAITHPUL UNTO DRATH."

Sermon by Bishop Wayman at the A. M. E. Church.

Close of the S. S. Convention-Resolutions on the Lynching of Sam Bush.

The distinguished divine of the Afrian Methodist Episcopal church, Bishop A. W. Wayman, of Baltimore, Md., last night delivered the closing address of the district S. S. association and Epworth league at St. Peter's church on Spring avenue There was a large congregation present to hear the learned bishop, who selected for his text the tenth verse of the second chapter of Revelations: "Be thou faithful unto death." The words of the text meant to the bishop that faithfulness should charsoterize all christians in all times, in all places and under all circumstances. The influence of the christian religion, he said, was growing and spreading in all lands. To the one who has been faithful from children through life the pleasantest place at the end is the death bed. God will be there to welcome you and give you the crown of eternal life The bishop spoke for nearly an hour, and was heard with absorbing interest. Many of the ministers and Sabbath school workers who had attended the convention remained in the city to hea

RESOLUTIONS ON THE LINCHING CASE. The following resolutions were passed by the Sunday School Convention of the A. M. E. church, which held its sessions in this city during this week:

WHEREAS, At a recent date a helpless Ameri-can negro fell a victim to the violence of an infortated mob, charged with a crime for which he was granted no trial, and which therefore was never proved against hin; and, whoreas, the laws of all civilized nations demand that every culprit, no matter what may be the nature of his effense, be granted a fair trial by process of existing law, and that such legal measures be observed as will acquit the innocent and bring the guilty to justice.
WHEREAS, The unhappy victim in this case persistently declared his innocence, but "Amircan fairness" and "American cough rights before near furness and "American opini rights of ore the law" and federal statute were all powerless to preserve the majesty of the law, or to ap-pease the tury of the bleedthirsty rabble, and innocent or gullty, the helpiess and unprotected American citizen was murdered by cowards, iynched in the very face of justice in the state of lillings. Therefore be it Hesolica, That we, the ministers of the A. M

E. church and delegates to the Sunday scho onwation, assembled, do hereby denounce this atrocious dead as a blot on the fair writings of the constitution of this republic: that we about inate it as a lie in the right hand of vaunted liberty, a discord amid the harmonies of modern civilization, and a dark and ignominious pictur or mizzaton, and a task and grownhood potents in the history of this city of Decatur, this county of Macon and state of Hitnors.

Resolved, That we deplore the tast as unques-tionably demonstrated by these bacharian out-rages of the weakness of federal law, and the hauffidency of state government to protect the lives of American citizens within their own realm, hence the existence of tyranny, oppres reatm, hence the existence of tyriamy, optices sion and wrong, as deliberately directed against the colored population of this "land of the free and home of the brave"

Resolved, That against this system of dastardly oppression, which robs the weak of their lawful rights, and sheds the blood of the inner lawful rights, and sheds the blood of the inner and the statement of t lawful rights, and sheds the blood of the luno-cent, regardless of all humans principle, and de-lant of all law, we utter unqualished exercation. Pesoired, That we are immediately identified with this persecuted and much-abused race-variety, and as such we commit ourselves and our cause to the God who judgeth the people, and while we wait patiently for deliverance we commend our enemies to His mercy, who doeth all things well. The pusilianimous champions of lynch law and incineration, the contemptible advocates of mob rule and racial ostracism, and political han, and color prejudice, we leave them to our God, who grasps every material and mun-danc cause of good and evil, and establishes or to our God, who grasps every insteria and much dane cause of good and evil, and establishes or disannuls has seemeth Him good. Who with horners and halistones scourged the Canaan-tish oppressor of the former time, and with terrible and destructive miracles maintained his tremendous controversy with cruel and ity oppressed people, to bim we commit our claim upon and our interest in "AMERICAN FATENESS," and American "EQUAL HIGHTS BEFORE THE LAW," and American "FREE IN-"Vengeauce is mine, I will re-STITUTIONS," pay, saith the Lord." One of the most unique exhibits to be esen at the World's Fair is in the Postoffice department of the government building. The government has a display of articles that have gone through the mails and reached the Dea i Letter office This exhibit, as a whole, attracts a great deal of attention and is constantly surrounded by an amused and interested crowd. One article, among the hundreds to be seen, is from Decatur, and serves to advertise this city more widely than any other single article among the many that Decatur has sent.

This particular article is a very neatly bound volume, with the following mascription in gold letters on the back: "Spiritual Series. The True Spirit of Ireland. A Guide to health and Happiness. Edited and Published by D. W. Brenneman & Co., Decatur, Ill." On the top of the volume is a small, round opening, from which, very modestly, protendes the mouth of a whisky bottle Everybody notices this volume, and speaks of it to his neighbor, and in this way it corves to give our city a large advertisement; also Brenneman & Co

Elsewhere in this paper may be found two editorials, one from the Chicago Evening Journal and the other from the Ohneago News-Record, which have been written upon the assumption that public sentiment in Decatur and Macon county endorses the lynching of Sam Bush and te now in favor of judges, juries and court officers disregarding their oaths, rather than indict and convict those who engaged in the lynching. They do the people of Macon county great injustice in thus arraigning them. The public sentiment of this county was not in favor of the lynching, and the public sentiment is not now in favor of triffing with the law for the sake of those who volunturily and boldly committed the lynching. There are thousands, who, while they have no excuse or apology to offer for the crime committed by Bush, that, after he was arrested and in the custody of the law, a few men can be justified in violating the law which is the inheritance of all the people alike. They do not believe that a few men have the right, because they think they have an excuse for it, to trample under foot the shield that protects all the people. When a few assume the right to demolish the heritage of all in the language to imputed Mark An-

Unfair with Our People.

Then I and you and all of un fell down Those who say the sentiment of the people endorses this assault upon the liberties of the people and now demand that juries and courts shall become ac cessories to the crime after the fact are no less than slanderers of the law-abiding people of Decatur and Macon county and the excuses they put in the mouths of our people are libels upon them.

The crime of which Bush is charged is not common in this county and the extreme measures adopted in his case were not demanded to protect the women of the country from assault. Lynching is no protection against this crime as his tory attests. Those who are guilty of such crimes do not regard penalties when goaded on by passion. It was not the best people of Decatur or the most law-sbiding who engaged in the open defiance of law in the lynching. There is not a single Decatur citizén whose name has been connected with the lynching, as a participant who, if our people were organizing a committee in whose hands the protection of our women might safely be delegated to that would have a place. This fact is well known to some men in Decatur who were present at the lynching and who are reported to have aided and abetted the act, and are now slandering the fair name of this com munity by giving out the word that publie sentiment here is in favor of lynch law and all the other violations of law necessary to shield those engaged in the lynching from punishment.

How many leading citizens from Mt Zion, where the crime was committed and where the greatest excitement existed or that account, were in the company that rode in to do the lynching we are unable to say, but we are oredibly informed that many of the leading citizens of that township not only advised against such violence but persuaded men from joining in it, and are to this day as sorry as good people elsewhere are that the county has been disgraced by such a flagrant and inexousable deflance of law.

It was a bad piece of business for which our people will have to pay the penalty in the effect of such conclusions as are reached by the newspapers before referred to, and in many other ways. It is safe to say that were it to do over again even those who were the prime movers in the lynching would accept advice against it, and would let the law take its course. In face of these facts, deny, to assume that public sentiment in this county is willing that the county shall farther be disgraced by openly trifling with the law is unjust, because it is untrue.

DAVID B. HILL has declared infravor of free silver. This is David's contribution toward restorning confidence to the panicky condition of business. This may not strike sensible people as being the best way to do it, but it bests going fishing by several points.

Whan we read of the great pressure at the World's Fair grounds to shake ands with Governor McKinley, and the cries that the crowd sent up saying, "our next president," it looks very much as if McKinleyism were not as dead as our Democratic friends would have us think

THE Democratic press, during Harrison's successful business administration had a good deal to say about grandfather's hat. Judging from the failure of the present administration to restore confidence to the business interests of the country it is composed of people who do not wear hats.

Ir Henry Clay or Daniel Webster were to mee from the dead and note the condition of business, especially in our manufacturing centers and formerly rogressive cities they would at once suspect, if they were able to recall their experionce while they were in the flesh, that the Democrate were in power.

Those people who votedia the Demopratic ticket last November because they could not commit the Republican party to ruinous policies, are beginning to realize that they did a bad days business. They find they cannot divorce themselves from their share of the troubles the threatened change of policy has brought upon the country.

As THE Democratic victory is the cause of the general revolution of business that is bringing the wolf to the doors of thousands of our people, it will be pretty hard for that party to restore confidence. In fact, the only way they can do it is to confess themselves beaten and openly dealare against every Democratic principle taught in the last campaign.

LIZZIE BORDEN, having been acquitted of the charge of murdering her father and step mother on account of the failure of the prosecution to produce any evidence to show that she did or even could ave killed them, has gone to the old homestead at Fall River, Mass., and has pegun housekeeping with her sister. The etate to which only her and her sister are beirs is said to be worth $300,000, and it is also said that her defence cost her $50,000 of that estate. So long as she remains at home, like the good woman she is thought to be by those who have tnown her all her life, and does not take to the lecture platform, the country can afford to congratulate her on her ascape from the gallows.

A COMMUNICATION from W. C. Whitney of Chicago, published in this paper yes terday, states that the Illinois exhibit at the World's Fair is noted for the fact that Illinois has utterly failed to present anything to remind the world that this state furnished a Lincoln and a Grant to the country in the hour when it needed This overeight is most deplorable and does not speak well for those who are managing the affairs by which the state is to be judged at this great exposition. According to the communication of Mr. Whitney these managers have rejected the offer of many things that would have been reminders to those who visit the fair that such men once existed. This indicates that the managers may be guilty of a worse crime than negligence. Why Illinois should not have among its chief exhibite a bust if not a statue of Abraham Lincoln, which all visitors would be only too glad to see, together with other mementoes of both Lincoln and Grant, ought to be explained to the people, if an explanation can be made of o serious an omission.

Ku-Klux in the South.

Chicago Evening Journal Decatur grand jurors have been unable to find a single indictment against the perpetrators of the recent lynching out-rage in that city. Judge Vail did his duty yesterday in retueing to discharge them sending them back to try again. There are none so blind as those who will

There are none so blind as those who wan to see.

In view of this bit of history those people who are want to let their righteous indignation bubble over against the flouth every time they read of a negrollynching, will have to find a more conjunctions. If Decatur is a representative community, spoperatify the only difference between Illinois and Texas in the matter of lynchings is the difference in the number of provocations.

What right have we to prate of our superior law-abiding qualities if out of a jury of 23, only four votes can be found to indict the perpetrators of a deliberate and utterly nunceessary violation of the fundamental law of civilisation—the right of a prisoner to a fair trial for life. Every sean who can think two consecutive thoughts knows that it boots nothing to say that this negro britte, Bush, had forfeited all the rights of a man by his crime. The wisest mob is more dangerous than the most ignorant court. This Decatur apisode is a humilisting confessation that the spirit of 'he Kuklur is as strong on this side of Mason an' Dixon's line as on the other, and that it needs only a real or fancied outrage to bring it to the front in either eaction. These Decatur jurous in their qualitying outh had sworn to investigate this matter thoroughly and make true presentments to the court. Then after examining witnesses two weeks on the case they unterly ignored it, presented four or five indictionents for minor offenses, and asked to be dismissed. It is creditable to Judge Vall that he sent the jury back to work with a sharp rominder that lynching is murder. But the public sentiment of Decatur applands the grand jury for having refused to find an indictment, and we may rest assured that whether it now inducts anyone or not nobody is going to be convioted.

we may rest assured that whealer; and inducts anyone or not nobody is going to be convicted.

The local sentiment against taking the life or liberty of any one for killing such a vicious creature is perfectly natural, and would undonbedly be the same in any other town that had enough lawlessness in it to perpetrate a lynching. The victim was, without a doubt, worthy of death. But that does not excuse the officious law-breakers who took restribution into their own hands, nor does it reduce one icts the intrinsic viciousness and danger of such acts.

Lynching a notorious criminal is like shouting to a loud-mouthed rowdy, "Quit yout d— sweering." The impulse is righteous, but there is a good deal of the aboriginal soimet mixed up even with our highest sense of right. We may as well be honest and admit that the unboly combination is not restricted to the land of cotton.

W. J. Mize for Postmester.

Many of the old Decatur friends W. J. Mize were pleased to hear that his name had been favorably mentioned as a candidate for postmaster of Chicago Those who knew him in Decatur were all well estisfied that he was especially qualified to draw the salary of that office. But the following from the Chicago Evening Journal is evidently intended to show that he is not even qualified to do show that he is not even qualified to do that:

Much curiosity exists in the Chicago mind as to the personality of W. J. Mize. So far as The Journal can learn his present and only claim to fame is that he is a candidate for the Chicago Postmastership, and that his chief pull for the place is on account of what he did not accomplish as the hired lobbyist on behalf of the Civil Service Reform bill at Springfield. It is true that whatever som the Chicago Civil Service Reform League paid Mr. Mize on behalf of his services might as well have been thrown into the lake, for any public good it served, but it effected a very important connection between Mr. M. and Melville E. Stone, Franklin MacVeagh and numerous other civil service reformers.

Personally Mr. Mize hails from Egypt. He came to Chicago several moons since and lent a hand in organizing the Ben Cable wing of the party of stratagems and spoils. Being an extremely clever young man Mr. Mize balanced Jacksonian principles on one shoulder while carrying civil service reform preteness on the other. After the election of Mr. Cleveland Mr. Mize betook himself to Springfield at the expense of the C. S. R. L. while Mr. Cable pushed him for the Chicago Poetmastership at Washington. In plain phrase he is holding with the hare and running with the hounds.

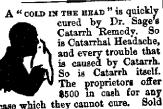

As to any qualifications for the office to which he aspires he is not known to poesses fitness or experience as a mail carrier much less as postmaster. His candidacy is sheer Democratic spoile-seeking fostered by hypocritical civil service reform humbug.

AN UGLY BUNAWAY.

A Man and a Boy m a Phaeton Have a Close Call for Their Lives.

This morning Adam Lamp, the teacher at the St. Johannes church school in the Fifth ward, came down town in Adam Stern's phaeton, accompanied by Henry Warnecks, the little brother of Miss Ross Warnecke, who is a clerk at Kuny & Johns' real estate office. A spirited sorrel mare was attached to the phaeton, and Mr. Lamp and the boy were about to drive away from the Linn & Scrugge corner when the mare became unruly and tore north on Water street at a ter rifle gait. One of the tugs had got out of place and that frightened the mare Mr. Lamp could not check her, and the people who rushed out into the street hoping to stop the snumal were unable to check the flight of the animal. Everybody expected that one or both occu pants of the rig would be killed or fright fully burt. Lamp said afterward that he thought he would be killed. Near Bradley Bros, store stood a heavy wagon belonging to R. J. Boberts, the house mover. One wheel of the phaeton came in contact with the wagon, and the horse and rig were whirled about, and ran against the sidewalk curbing in front of the Methodist church. Lamp and the boy were thrown out, and the mare broke away and ran two blocks north where she was caught Mr. Lamp received a few unhurt. scratches on the neck and cheek, but the boy was not injured at all. Both went into Reeve & Co.'s undertaking establishment, and after the crowd had got through inspecting the badly wrecked phaeton it was lifted into an express wagon and hauled off to a repair shop It will take $50 or $75 to put it in proper shape. Mr. Lamp refused to give his name to the reporter for publication, probably imagining that the public was not entitled to any information in reference to the runsway; but the story without the names of the occupants of the rig would be tame reading, and the reporter felt it his duty to get all the facts. and he was successful.

AT THE BANKERS CONGRESS

James Militicin Gives His Views on Financial Affairs.

The National Congress of Bankers was held in Chicago this week. It was a notable gathering of one thousand finan-James Millikin was interviewed by a Globe-Democrat reporter on the financial situation throughout the country. He is quoted as eaying:

"I don't think bankers will ever be a power and shape the financial policy of the country as we should, so long as we think more of our political perty than we do of the financial and material intererts of the country," said J. Millikin, of do of the financial and material interests of the country," said J. Millikin, of Decatur, Ill. "Our party will put up a candidate because of some supposed availability. We know that he will vote to impose legislation which is danger-one. We know he will vote for unfriendly laws which will hamper railroads and disturb values, yet we go to the polls and cast our ballots for such candidates because they are on the tickest of our party. If the bankars of the country had acted together when the Eherman and the Bland bills came up, the $60,000,000 of gold in the country would be in the banks to-day instead of being hearded in the safety deposit vaults of the country. From what I have beerned of the country. From what I have beerned of the condition of the Chicago eafety deposit concerns I believe that 75 per cent. of the money which has been drawn out of the banks and out of circulation recently is in the form of gold, which is being hoarded by individuals in the expectation that silver may send gold to a premium. The result is the stringency which the country is feeling. And we can't blame people for patting the gold eway. I think we could control financial legislation. If we had the nerve we could at least compel our parties to put up straight, square men. We are too himid. We ought to say to our parties, when they are about to select improper candidates, 'If you nominate that man we will not vote for him.'"

"Acknowledge the Corn."

A rew countryman went to New Orleans with flat-boats, the one laden with corn, the other with potatoes. He visited a gambling house, and betting, lost his money, corn and potatoes. Returning, he found the boat containing the corn sunk, all a total loss. He lay down and dreampt of "jack pots," corn and potatoes, and about sunrise, the "child of chance" who had won his corn and potatoes came to take them. Rubbing his eyes, the countryman said, "Stranger, I acknowledge the corn—take 'em, but the potatoes, you can't have, by thunder." Hence arose the expression "Acknowledge the corn." All impertial and wellinformed persons "Acknowledge the corn," that the safest and best place to order tailor-made clothing is of Ed. Denz & Son on Merchant street.

Law on Pool-Selling.
The supreme court, by Judge Wilkin, has handed down a decision in the case of the city of Chicago vs. E. J. Brownell, who was indicted for pool selling outaids a race course. The city council had passed an ordinance forbidding poolselling except at a regular course during a race meeting, and the defence maintained that the provisions of the ordinance could not be enforced because they were partial. The court holds that the ordinance is valid, and that poolselling can be stopped at any time or place in the state under the laws as they now stand. This substantiates the claim madeduring the past winter that the laws of the state are amply sufficient to stop pool-selling and that no additional legislation is necessary in the premises.

Miss Gertrude Shorb, who has been attending school at Ann Arbor, arrived home yesterday to spend her vacation.

Miss Fanny Fearn, of Groveport, O., arrived in the city this morning on a visit to her aunt, Mrs. I. N. Coltrin, and committed the hideous murder in the streets of Decatur.

Yesterday they applied to Judge Vail for their discharge without having found an indictment against any one of the murderers, though witnesses have identified a number of the ringlesders. For this brazen defiance of their caths the grand jurces richly merited the sharp rebuke administered by the court and the order to return to their chamber and do their duty. Miss Luis Archer and Miss Helen Perry, who have been in the city visiting I.R. Rogan and family, left to-day for their home in Mattoon.

B. C. Dewey, who has been the opera-tor at the gallery over Hays' old stand, left this morning for his home at Men-dota to remain permanently.

Fred. Snell, of Moawequa, is in the city to-day. He was formerly a resident of Decatur, and this is the first time he has visited our city in two years.

Mrs. C. P. Thatcher, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Bertha Robinson, of Philadelphia, Pa., left last night for Lake Bluff, where they will visit the World's Fair nearly every day.

Mrs. I. H. Burgoon and son, Charles, Mrs. W. C. Pluck, Mrs. Henry Markin and Mrs. Edward Foulke arrived home last night from Chicago, where they spent a week at the World's Fair.

E. MoClellan left to-day for Mackinaw where he will join Mr. and Mrs. John R. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Bingham, Mrs. S. E. Prootor, and J. J. Peddecord and spend a few days fishing at that delightful resort.

Charles Leux, accompanied by Miss Aileen Laux and James Laux, arrived bome last night from South Bend, Ind. and the World's Fair. James has been attending the university at South Bend.

O. A. Hover, who is in the train service on the Three C's and St. Louis road of the Big Four system, is in the city visiting his mother, Mrs. M. E. Hover, of 1018 North College street. He will be in the city about ten days. This is his second visit home in five years.

The REPUBLICAN is indebted to J. T. Roberts, dealer in grain, provisions and stocks, with correspondents in Chicago, New York, Minnespolis and St. Louis, for the following F. G. apolis and St. Louis, for the following F. G. Edgan & Co.'s market letter received over the Roberts private wire:

CHICAGO, HI, June 24, 1863.

CHICAGO, Hi., June 24, 1893.

It being Dorby day, the local operators have taken little interest in lo-day's market and therebourg no striking outsuid news, prices remained stationary.

The expert demand in the little of the l being no striking quescio stationary.

The expert demand is rather disappointing Each day brings out some long July wheat Each day brings out some long July wheat This daily process will probably prevent much rally this side of July lat. After July lat, loof for some spiture during the placing of our stock for another two mouths. Demand for cast for another two mouths. Demand for oach quet.

Corn closed firm. There was good demand for Got at 1½c ander Sept. The demand for oach was fair. This is a good scalping market. Receipts are not what the crowd expected.

Oats, good burns by shipping houses. Exporters are taking enough outs to tell on the surplus on old stock, and occasionally give the market buoyancy.

Provisions opened lower, and heavier receipts of hogs than expected. We look for lower prices next week if receipts in hogs come up to the settinate.

the Reception of the Caravels.

TO BE WELCOMED WITH A SALUTE.

Arrangements Being Perfected for

THE WORLD'S FAIR.

Grand Opening of the American Section on July 4 by the American Exhibitors-Hayti's Pavilion-Another Musicical Treat, Etc.

World's Fair Grounds, Chicago, June 24.—Under instructions from the director general, William Curtis, of the state department, is making arrangements for the reception of the Columbus caravels, which is expected to arrive the last of next week. It is proposed to have them met at Evanston or Waukegan, on the north shore, by a fleet of vessels composed of the United States revenue cutter Michigan, the coast survey steamer Blake, the revenue cutter Andrew Johnson, all of the private yachts that belong to or are visiting Chicago and as many excursion steamers and other boats as may desire to participate. The director general has requested Commander R. M. Berry, of the Michigan to take command of the fleet and assign places for the boats. The yacht club has been invited to participate and will appoint a committee to confer with Commander Perry as to details. It is probable that when the caravels reach Evanston the tags which have towed them from Quebec will be released, and the Santa Maria will be taken in tow by the Michigan, the Pinta by the Blake, and the Nina by the revenue cutter Johnson. The caravels will be entitled to a salute of nine guns in honor of Capt. Conchas, their commander. After the little fleet has unchored off the convent of La Brida, an aide of the director-general will visit them in his launch and escort WORLD'S FAIR GROUNDS, CHICAGO, June 24.—Under instructions from the enmanater. After the fittle heef has unchored off the convent of La Brida, an aide of the director-general will visit them in his hunch and escort Capt. Conchus and his officers to the Administration building, where they will be received by the officers of the exposition, and an address of welcome will be delivered by President Palmer. Ex-President Harrison was asked to deliver the address of welcome, but he is compeled to decline, owing to arrangements made to go to Cape May. Senators Sherman, Gorman, Allison, Free, ex-Speaker Reed and other congressmen who have taken an active interest in the caravels will be invited to be present, as will also Gen. Trace, ex-+25c Per Pair.+ terest in the caravels will be invited to be present, as will also Gen. Tracy, executary of the navy, under whose direction the ships were built. Secretary Herbert will also be present. After the address a luncheon will be tendered Capt. Conchas and a few invited guests, including Gov. Altgeld and Mayor Harrison. In the evening there will be a special programme, including fire works. The Santa Maria was built by the Spanish government, and the These Mitts re Extra Fine quality and splendid black will be a special programme, melatang fire works. The Santa Maria was built by the Spanish government, and the Nina and Pinta by the United States government, the three being under the command of Capt. Conchas. At the close of the exposition they will be given to the United States with appropriate ceremonies and anchored in the largons of the Potomac, south of the Weite House. Mulin Underwear, Corset Covers, lagoons of the Potomac, south of the Mouse.

At a meeting held in the manufactures building by American exhibitors, at which Chief Alltson and Chief Peabody, of the Liberal Arts were present, encouragement was extended to exhibitors in promoting their aim for a grand opening of the American section. It was decided, in view of the anniversary of American independence having been set apart as one of festivity, that that would be appropriate for the exhibitors to carry out their desires. It was decided that July 4 should be the day for the American exhibitors to make a demonstration that would be fully in keeping with the occasion.

The chief of departments of manufactures and liberal arts have showed the cordial co-operation of every exhibitor in bringing the vast area of pavilions, courts and booths up to the highest degree of attractiveness. The building will be appropriately decorated, and several bands will discourse music during the day and evening. There will be nothing lacking to make the event a maable one among exhibition celebrations, and the proceedings of the day worthy of achievement to be of the day worthy of achievement to be signalized.

The formal opening of Hayti's pavillon will take place this afternoon. Invitations have been issued to 300 guests. Music by a mandolin orchestra and addresses by Fred Douglass and Charles A. Preston, commissioner from Hayti, will constitute the programme. The Haytian minister at Washington and his staff are expected to be present.

and his staff are expected to be present.

Selections from Handel's "Judas Maccabaeus" were sung at Festival hall in the afternoon by parts of the singing societies of St. Louis, Milwaukee, Minneapolis and Cincinnati, assisted by the Exposition orchestrathe soloists were Miss Emma Juch, soprana; Miss Lena Little, contralto; Edward Lloyd, tenor, and Emil Fischer, basso. William L. Tomlins conducted. Their orchestral work was all that could be desired with, the exception of Mr. Fischer, whose voice broke at a critical stage, resulting from a cold and at the end of his part he retired from the hall. The second part of the concerts consists of overture No. 3 from Beethoven's "Leonora," artistically given by the orchestical parts of the concepts on the price of the parts of the p RACKETS that we are ling at greatly reduced prices. CROQUET-4, 6 d 8 Ball Sets. Professture No. 5 from Beethoren's "Leonora," artistically given by the orchestra of 150 musicians, and Berlioz "Requiem Mass," by the chorus of 1,000 voices. Through the efforts of Col. voices. Through the efforts of Col. Lamont, Secretary Herbert, Assistant Secretary McAdoo, Postmaster-General Bissell and William E. Curtis, in charge of the Latin-American bureau of the exposition, the Spanish commander of the caravels has given consent that the fleet stop at Charlotte, Port Rochester, Lake Ontario, on Sunday and Monday, June 25 and 26.

An informal reception and ten were given in the assembly room of the Women's building by the board of managers in the afternoon to the musical agers in the afternoon to the musicul who are here attending the National congress of the amateur clubs. Mrs. Francis Clarke, of Minne-apolis, and others, received the guests.

apolis, and others, received the guests. The new pipe organ in the room was played on for the first time by Miss May Henry, of Chicago. An impromptu programme was given.

The United States Sub-Marine Diveing Co.'s exhibit on Midway Plaisance, which has been in proparation for some weeks, is open. A practical diver will give daily exhibitions in twelve feet of water and show the methods which are used in diving work. which are used in diving work.

The Week's Business and the Outlook, as Reported by R. G. Dun & Co. NEW YORK, June 24.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade, published

NEW YORK, June 24.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade, published this morning, says:

The improvement expected from the issue of clearing-house certificates, thus utilizing credits instead of cosh in local dealings, has not been realized. The failure of banks at San Francisco led to a heavy demand from that quarter, $1,000,000 having been sent in a single day. Distrust of weaker banks was avoided by the application of the Bank of Commerce for $1,000,000 certificates, and $2,350,000 were issued Thursday, but the pressure for rediscounts for interior banks is beyond the actified by New York to meet. The secretary has given notice that he will anticipate the payment of interest July 1, amounting to $7,500,000, but only $1,500,000 on bends, held by banks, which will be immediately dishursed. The volume of trade is certainly reduced by mosetary stringency. Bank clearings outside of New York are declining materially in comparison with last year. In some departments of business orders for merchandise are deferred, since there is no assurace of ability to carry the goods until they are sold, while in other departments orders are not received because the future is distrusted. The effect on the great industries is less, thus far, than might have been feared, but many works are now reducing the number of highs, and many others must soon suspend operations unless the prospects are clearur.

In the from business no improvement is perceptible, and pig is as low as ever, and, while must soon suspens operations unless the prospects are clearor.

In the iron business no improvement is perceptible, and pig is as low as ever, and, while products are in fair demand, prices are mighty low. Sales of wool at all prominent markous are very small for the season. Cotton goods are quict, and, white shipments of boots and shoes on pust orders far exceel last year, new orders are not encouraging. Speculative markets have been much depressed by monetary stringency, wheat having sold for the last few days at the lowest prices ever known here. The movement of grain from the firms is large for the season, and by no means indicates oxhaustion of stocks, and the visible supply decreases as slowly that the purchasers are little encouraged. The new harvest airendy beging, and prospects are decidedly brightened by

Lower prices have increased the export desend, shough it is not large enough to make much impression on the enormous stocks in sight. Corn has been wask with more cheering crop prospects and hog products on account of the mosetary stringency. Accounts from other cities all show that mometary pressure affects trade materially; that collections are innursally slow, and besize exactions, in leading even where they are strongly counting in trade, and all buyers are cantious, though there is a general feeling that the werst is over.

Boots and shoes are quiet, and orders are notsumment to consumers, though print cloths are dull and woolen goods quiet. At Philadelphia settivity is seen in dry goods, but other trades dull and iron depressed. At Estimore niothing and hats are more active, and the vegetable and fruit packers have a good season, but retail trade is more quiet. At Pittaburgh the volume of business has somewhat decreased, and the fact that two prominent iron concerns are invived is discouraging.

At Cleveland trade is fairly good and collections better, except for manufactures, and the hanks are well fortified, but money is slow.
At Cleveland trade is fairly good and collections better, except for manufactures, and the

At Cleveland trade is fairly good singer and fair, but stringoncy makes collections toolse.

At Detroit trade is dull tail orders light and tions better, except for manufactures, and the banks are well fortified, but money is slow. At Cincinnaci bouts and shee for the year time far squal last year's and the dry-goods trade is fair, but stringoncy makes collections close. At Derott trade is dult fail orders light and manufacturers discharging some employes, with prospects that many must close if the stringency continues; but stringency is feit in the interior, and large failures result.

At St. Paul and Minneapolis trade is quief and collections slow, but prespects are much brighter. Chicago reports uo distinct improvement in trade, though July settlements will soon take large sums and an easier market is expected. One large real estate failure caused some divocuragement, and money is very spaningly leaned, though large house have been made for two months at heavy rates to add in carrying grain. Collections are very slow, white orders for goods are tairly large for the dull season. Speculation is much curtailed and prices for wheat the lowest ever known Local securities have shrunk several point lower. Clearings show a decrease compared with last year, and receipts of nearly all products decreased. The city council of fourteen members at Joliet are in a muddle because of the fact that seven Democratic alderman refuse to confirm the appointers of a Republican mayor. The story is briefly told in this talegram:

publican mayor. The story is brieny told in this talegram:

JOLET, Ill., June 22.—Ever since Mayor Henry H. Stassen took his seat there has been a bitter fight going on in the city council, which has finally come to a law sait. Stassen, a Republican, was elected in the spring, and the council stood seven to seven. The seven Democratic aldermen voted against the mayor's appointments but to no awail. To day a bill for an injunction was filed by J. W. Downer against the city of Joliet and Mayor H. H. Stassen to enjoin the payment of the salaries of six officers. The bill is filed on behalf of the seven Democratic aldermae, and sets forth that the mayor has declared without a majority vote and has paid them illegally. It also declares that the mayor has illegally prevented the division of reports and the separation of reports, as the city charter provides. All of the officials as well as the city of Joliet are made parties to the suit.

Getting Spliced.

Getting Spliced.

It was pouring hard and a certain minister not long since filling a Lew-iston pulpit settled himself for an afterneon of sermonizing. Suddenly there came a sharp ring at the bell. On opening the door a gentleman and a lady, both in ordinary apparel and worse for the storm, stepped into the hall.

"Say, parson, we want to be spliced, don't we, Mary?"

Mary nodded coolly, as if the splicing process were a matter of supreme inprocess were a m difference to her.

LOST AT SEA.

Awful Result of a Collision on the Mediterranean.

400 SAILORS FIND WATERY GRAYES.

Tremendous Excitement in London or Receipt of the News-Messages of Condolence from the Queen and Emperor William.

LONDON, June 24.-A most terrible calamity has befallen the British battle ship Victoria, flagship of the Mediterranean squadron, and hundreds of lives have been lost.

The Victoria, which flew the flag Vice-Admiral Sir George Tryon, K. C. B., was run into off Tripoli by the Brit-ish battle ship Camperdown, also belonging to the Mediterranean squadron, and under command of Capt. Charles Johnstone. An enormous hole was made in the side of the Victoria, through which the water poured in torrents. The immense hull of the Victoria at once began to settle and before those on board of her could cast loose their small boats she went to the bottom carrying nearly all down with her who were on board.

Some of the officers and crew manged to get out of the suction caused by the sinking vessel and were res-Among those lost is Vice-Admiral Tryon.

The first reports of the disaster stated that about 200 men had been drowned, but later dispatches show that the loss of life was far greater, not less than 400 of the officers and crew of the Victoria having gone down with their ship. The Victoria was a twin-screw battle ship of 10,470 tons and 14,000 horsepower She mounted fifteen guns. The Camperdown is a first-class twinscrew battle ship. She is of 10,000 tons and 11,500 horse power and carries ten guns. Admiral Sir George Tryon was commander-in-chief of the Mediterranean station. He was made a vice-admiral August 20, 1891.

Theories on the Disaster. LONDON, June 24.—An interview was had yesterday with Lord George Hamilton to ascertain his views as to the disaster. He said without a doubt the Campardown a run had out the campardown a run had out the Camperdowne rum had cut away the plating of the Victoria outside of several of her transverse bulkheads. eral of her transverse bulkheads. Had this not been the case, the bulkheads could have been closed and the water kept in one, or at most two, compartments, and the vessel would still have floated. But with the plating torn off or cut away outside of several of the bulkheads the inflow of water would have been enormous, and there would have been no time, even if it would have availed anything, to close the bulkheads. Lord George Hamilton further said he thought, with the plating torn off, the water must be a contract the ship in a solid must have entered the ship in a solid must have entered the ship in a solid mas and thus entering on one side, caused the casel to capsize almost immediately. The blow from the Camperdowne, he thought must have been delivered slantingly to have one the damage he thought had been done. The damage would be all the greater to a ship with her bulkheads pierced. She would thus be worse off than a ship with no bulkheads. The cause of ship with no bulkheads. The cause of the collision, he said, was as yet a mat-ter of conjecture, and he declined to express an opinion on this point.

An interview was also had with Rt.

Hon Arthur Bower Forwood, a wellknown ship owner of Liverpool, who was secretary to the admirality Mr. Forwood said it was a wonder that such an accident had not occurred be-fore The Victoria had a long latitu-dinal bulkhead running through her, besides a number running across-ship She was thus divided into compart-ments on each side of the longitudinal bulkhead without communication be tween them In his opinion what had occurred was this The Camperdowne had struck the Victoria a rasping blow, glancing along the side and opening out the plates above several of the compartments. The water was then admitted into a number of compartments on one side of the ship, causing her to capsize by its great weight. The longitudinal bulkhend was a good thing in its way, Mr. Forwood said, but it did not serve to avert the disas ter. The immediate cause of the colli-sion he added, cannot now be exactly stated.

The squadron appears to have been maneuvering, probably within a space of three miles, leaving a small area for each vessel to move in A misreading of signals may have caused the acci-

The duke of Edinburg has received a

Words cannot express our horror We all sympathize with our British comrades. As token of our sympathy, your easign is flying from the main masts of our vessels, with our own easign at helf mast according to my orders. dispatch from William II:

The duke of Edinburg replied. The British navy and nation feel deeply the sympa thy expressed by your majesty and our brother officers of the German Avy for us in this great disaster

In discussing the disas last even-ing Lord Brassey, ex-sect ary of the admiralty, said the sinking of the Va-toria supplied a stror argument against building big mer of-war. He said that the Victor,'s almor afforded her no protection from the Camper-downe's ram. While not convinced that smaller vessels were safer than large ones, he thought it was ear to distribute the country's strength among less pretentious menof-war rather than a few monster battleships It was poor policy to put so many eggs in one basket. A court circular, issued this evening, says that the queen received the news with the deepest grief, and that "Her heart beats for the many homes plunged in mourning." The queen will publish to-morrow a special letter of con-dolence with the families afflicted by

A dispatch received at 2 o'clock yes terday morning from Beyroot, says the collision occurred at 5 o'clock Thursday morning, about seven miles from Tripoli. The vessels were almost at right angles when the Victoria was struck. Those on the Victoria's deck t the moment of the collision scramat the moment of the collision scram-bled away, and were rescued by boats from the Camperdowne and several other vessels. The men below had no time to reach the deek. The sudden keeling of the Victoria caused her to begin to fill immediately and no es-cape was possible. She went down in eighty fathoms of water. It is difficult to obtain the names of the difficult to obtain the names or the rescued, as they are aboard several vessels, and so far all efforts have been devoted to recovering bodies. Shortly after the collision four bodies were taken from the water, one of them the body of the chief paymaster. They were buried with military honors at Tripoli. The Camperdowne was severely damaged forward in the collision. Temporary repairs will be made, and she will start for home. It is said here that several times the Victoria had shown signs of weakness in her steering gear. One theory is that on account of this weakness she became unmanageable and could not get out of the Camperdowne's way.

The London Papers on the Disaster. London, June 24 —The morning newspapers are filled with articles describing the vessels and with obitu-aries of the most conspicuous officers lost. All published leaders extending condolence to the friends of the drowned men. Every leader culorizes Admiral Tryon.

The Daily news says editorially America will thrill at the news coming as it does when the New York cheers for our squadron have hardly died away. Are we to pay so much in minds and broken hearts only to learn that the compartment system is a delusion and a space.

The Times says:

The Times says:
The inquiry into the causes of this disaster must be searching and exhaustive—the punishment if blame he found to exist, adequate and unfinching. Only so can the loss on the fearful caismity be turned to account. The true lesson is not that maneuvers at sea are too hardons but that only by incessant practice of evolutions at high speed can the navy be fitted for the accessities of were

All Royal Amusements Postponed. LOYDON, June 24 -The Queen has sent Col. Carrington to express her sorrow and sympathy to Lady Tryon. On the evening of the day following the disaster, Lady Tryon, who arrived from Malta, was holding her reception of the season. When the news of her husband's death reached her she fell in a faint. Marshal Hilliard and Mayor Cough lin are reving some astonishing let-ters, most fithem being of the dirtiest and most lie character. One tester from Low 1 would cost a sound thump-ing if the starshal could lay his hands on the writer. Among the curiosities he has received is a large leather medal from New York state.

Confessed Judgmen

CHICAGO, June 24. —, Friedman & Friedman, wholesale clothing dealers, confessed judgment in the circuit court, resterday, for sums aggregating $67, 300. Executions were immediately issned on the judgments, and placed in the hands of the sheriff. The other claims against the firm are estimated at $25,000, making the total liabilities of the concern about $92,000. The assets are about the same amount. The failure is attributed to the stringency of the money market.

San Francisco, June 24.—The runs on the San Francisco Savings Union on the San Francisco Savings and bank and on the German Savings and Loan Society bank are now on. Both banks declare they are fully able to meet the runs and they are paying out deposits up to $1,000. A long line of deposits up to $1,000. A long l depositors is at each bank.
